

HOOK FLYFISHING GEAR UPGRADE FORM

TERMS

Hook Flyfishing does not deduct any fees for the services provided by the Gear Upgrade Program.

We (Hook Flyfishing) will sell your gear as a consigned product and you, the consignor (our customer), will agree to accept store credit for the amount that is generated from the sale of your gear, less eBay and Paypal fees. You will receive store credit after the sale of your consigned gear. Store credit and the items purchased with store credit cannot be redeemed for cash or in any way transferred into cash. Store credit must be spent on regular stock items in the physical store or the online store, including classes but not including guide services or adventure travel. eBay sales will not be ended before the scheduled ending date unless an error in the listing or posting has been made. We reserve the right to determine what actually constitutes an error. Ending a sale early damages our "Seller Rating" (e.g. feedback scores and reputation). If your gear is not currently listed on eBay it can be returned to you without penalty. If you bid-up or win your own gear on eBay you will forfeit the item to cover the costs we have incurred by posting the item (e.g. time, labor, electricity, general overhead, stress, hearing damage from screaming wives, etc.). We may negotiate with you on your "MINIMUM OR RESERVE PRICE" if we think a different price is more realistic - you can tell us to "hit the road", but we do have a bit of experience and a generally good idea of what the market will bear. We reserve the right to model the information you have supplied about your gear into an accurate and effective sales description of the items to provide the best and most accurate information to potential buyers. Warranties cannot be transferred. We will return what we cannot sell.
